[D] Suzanne takes you down to her place by the river
You can [Em] hear the boats go by you can spend the night beside her
And you [D] know that she's half crazy but that's why you want to be there
And she [F#m] feeds you tea and oranges that come [G] all the way from China
And just [D] when you mean to tell her that you [Em] have no love to give her
Then she [D] gets you on her wavelength and she [Em] lets the river answer
That you've [D] always been her lover

And you [F#m] want to travel with her and you [G] want to travel blind
And you [D] know that she will trust you
For you've [Em] touched her perfect body with your [D] mind

[D] And Jesus was a sailor when He walked upon the water
And He [Em] spent a long time watching from his lonely wooden tower
And [D] when He knew for certain only drowning men could see Him
He said [F#m] All men will be sailors then un[G]til the sea shall free them
But [D] He Himself was broken long be[Em]fore the sky would open
For[D]saken almost human He [Em] sank beneath your wisdom like a [D] stone

And you [F#m] want to travel with him and you [G] want to travel blind
And you [D] think maybe you'll trust him
For he's [Em] touched your perfect body with his [D] mind

[D] Suzanne takes your hand and she leads you to the river
She is [Em] wearing rags and feathers from Salvation Army counters
And the [D] sun pours down like honey on our lady of the harbor
And she [F#m] shows you where to look among the [G] garbage and the flowers
There are [D] heroes in the seaweed there are [Em] children in the morning
They are [D] leaning out for love and they will [Em] lean that way forever
While Su[D]zanne holds the mirror

And you [F#m] want to travel with her and you [G] want to travel blind
And you [D] know that you will trust her
For she's [Em] touched your perfect body with her [D] mind
